Military Records at the Alabama Department of Archives and History: *A Tips, Tools, and Treasures Workshop on November 8, 2008

Get introduced to using military records in your historical and genealogical research. Join us Saturday morning, November 8, at 10:00 to learn about sources for military history research in the Alabama Department of Archives and History (ADAH) collections. Archivist Norwood Kerr will discuss the types of records available and offer tips for locating them using the ADAH website.

Tips, Tools, and Treasures is a workshop designed to introduce researchers to the vast array of research materials available at the ADAH, and to familiarize them with department services. Archives staff will present these programs the second Saturday of each month in 2008 from 10:00 - 11:00 A.M. The programs are free and do not require pre-registration. All programs will take place at ADAH, 624 Washington Ave., Montgomery. A complete list of topics and dates follows:
